Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—Before a mammoth crowd of rooting fans, estimated at between thirty-five and forty thousand, Pittsburg today outplayed Detroit in the opening game of the world's series to decide the baseball championship as between the National and American leagues. The final score was Pittsburg 4; Detroit 1.

Pittsburg's errorless fielding and heavy hitting by Wagner, Clark and Gibson tells the story of the Pirate's victory. Detroit made a sensational start, taking advantage of Pitcher Adams' unsteadiness in the first inning, and succeeded in getting a man across the plate, but Adams soon settled down and pitched a superb game, allowing but five scattered hits, none of which exceeded a single.

The most remarkable play of the game was Centerfielder Leach's wonderful catch of Cobb's liner in the seventh, with two men on the bases, which prevented Detroit tying the score. It looked like a home run, but Leach made a sensational one-hand catch. A mighty roar swept across Forbes field from the bleachers when it was seen that Leach had held on to the ball.

Pitcher Mullin for Detroit was invincible for three innings, when ragged defense broke the tie. Clark made a home run in the fourth, knocking the ball into the bleachers at the far end of the field.

Perfect order was maintained by two hundred fifty extra policemen, and there was no wrangling among the players. The umpires were Johnstone and O'Laughlin.

Game by Innings
First inning—Detroit, the visiting team, was first up. Pitcher Adams exhibited considerable nervousness, due to the deafening rooting from the bleachers, and walked both Jones and Cobb. Delahanty found Adams for a neat single, scoring Jones. Pittsburg was retired in one, two, three order. Score at end of inning, Detroit 1; Pittsburg 0.

Second inning—The first two Detroit players were retired when Mullin singled. He died on first. With two out for the Pirates, Abstein walked, but was caught off first. Neither team scored this inning.

Third inning—With two out, Crawford, of Detroit, beat out a hit to first, but he died there. Pittsburg went out in order. No score this inning.

Fourth inning—Detroit was retired in order, Adams steadying down and pitching superb ball. With two out, Clark, of Pittsburg, knocked the ball into the bleachers for a home run, tying the score. Score at end of this inning, Pittsburg 1, Detroit 1.

Fifth inning—Detroit failed to score this inning, after Cobb took first on a fielder's choice and stole second. Pittsburg in this inning got busy and took advantage of Detroit's errors. Abstein took first on Second Baseman Delahanty's fumble. Wilson struck out. Catcher Gibson hit to center for two bases, scoring Abstein. Adams took first on Shortstop Bush's fumble, Gibson going to third. Mullin hit Byrne with a pitched ball, filling the bases. Gibson scored on Leach's sacrifice. Score at end of this inning, Pittsburg 3; Detroit 1.

Sixth inning—Detroit was retired in order. Wagner doubled to left field and went to third on a poor throw to second by Catcher Schmidt. He scored on Abstein's out. Score at end of this inning, Pittsburg 4; Detroit 1.

Seventh inning—With D. Jones and Bush on bases, Centerfielder Leach of Pittsburg made a wonderful one-hand catch of a liner by Cobb, which looked like a home run, going up into the center field bleachers after the ball. This prevented Detroit's tying the score. No runs this inning.

Eighth inning—Detroit again was retired in order. Wagner was hit by a pitched ball, but the umpire refused to allow him to take first, claiming he stepped into it. No runs this inning.

Ninth inning—Detroit went out in one, two, three order, Adams being invincible.

Final score—
R. H. E.
Pittsburg 4 5 0
Detroit 1 6 3

John McMillan and Arthur Wilson were arraigned before the justice of the peace on the East side today, charged with vagrancy. They pleaded guilty and were each given eight days of labor on the streets.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 8.—One of the most disastrous wrecks on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway in many months, occurred at noon today at Three Bridges, a suburban station on the outskirts of Topeka, when a work train collided head-on with an oil train. Both trains were running at a high rate of speed.

The first reports received here were that thirty persons had been killed, but later details showed that but half this number fifteen had met death. The victims were all members of a construction gang, riding on the work train. Ten of them were Mexicans and five Americans.

The course taken by the horses to the plaza was not hard to distinguish as bottles of milk had been scattered and broken all along the trail. The loss in spilled milk was considerable.

COLORED PASTOR WEDS DIVORCEE; GETS INTO TROUBLE AS RESULT

Rev. P. D. Yochum, a colored member of "the cloth," having for some time past presided over the destinies of the congregation of the A. M. E. church in this city, met his Waterloo a few days ago at the annual conference of this church held in Boulder, Colo.

Trouble was brewing when the Rev. Yochum arrived at Boulder, charges having been preferred against the colored clergyman for having violated the laws of the church by marrying a divorced woman. The result of the hearing of the charges before a conference committee named by the presiding bishop for that purpose, was a sad blow to the accused brother's ministerial aspirations, for it is said that he was either expelled from the conference or suspended until such time as the cloud shall have rolled by.

Disheartened but not discouraged, Rev. Yochum, accompanied by his bride, went to Pueblo, where they spent several days visiting friends and discussing the dilemma in which they found themselves. Not wishing to take any chances on being further humiliated, the colored preacher left his wife at Pueblo and returned to this city, where he packed up his few belongings and made haste to seek a new location.

This afternoon he departed for Durango, Colo., where he expects to secure a pastorate, provided the conference is willing. He will be joined en route by Mrs. Yochum. When he purchased his ticket at the local Santa Fe depot last night, presenting a clergyman's certificate and paying but half fare, he was required to plank down the sum of $4 for excess baggage.

Now that Rev. Yochum has left, the local congregation of the A. M. E. church is awaiting the coming of his successor, who will be from Kansas. It is said the Las Vegas congregation was about equally divided in the fight made on the accused pastor.
